A benefits program doesn't have to cost anything to your company to mean everything to your employees.

To attract highly skilled workers in a healthcare industry that was becoming increasingly competitive, while also retaining the irreplaceable talent in their current workforce, WellStar sought a way to significantly beef up its employee benefits package, without creating additional costs or administrative hassles. In 2008, WellStar's director of Work-Life Services found exactly that in Purchasing Power's employee purchase program.

“ Anytime you implement a program like Purchasing Power you always have a fear of how much it's going to require of you to manage on a day-to-day basis... The staff of Purchasing Power has been beyond phenomenal managing any issues that arise in a very quick turnaround time. ”

- Work-Life Services Director, WellStar

Through its longstanding partnership with Purchasing Power, WellStar has met its employee recruitment and retention goals, while strengthening its work-life balance initiatives that reinforce its corporate culture.

“I love shopping on your site—I get all my Christmas and birthday gifts here. I love that the payments are a small amount that comes out of my pay each week.”
